

Unite staff in a common goal through a charity of your choice campaign

Bring your teams together to work towards a common goal when you pick St Catherine's Hospice as your charity of choice.

It's a wonderful opportunity to unite different areas of the organisation behind a worthwhile cause, which is making a real difference to the communities where staff live and work.

We're the leading local charity in Central Lancashire and throughout our 34-year history we have touched the lives of most employees in some way - whether it be through immediate family, friends, colleagues or neighbours.

Rest assured when you choose St Catherine's as your preferred charity, our community engagement and communications teams will be on hand to ensure your time supporting us is beneficial, rewarding and successful for everyone involved.

With your support, we'll be here for patients and their families facing life-shortening conditions like cancer, motor neurone disease and heart failure – helping them to have quality of life, to the end of life.

A million and one ways to make a difference to your local hospice

We're committed to supporting you in whatever events and campaigns you feel are right for you, your business and your teams.

We know workloads are high and schedules are busy, so for some the tried and test fundraisers will appeal - from dress down days to cake sales, tombolas and raffles.

Others might prefer to pick a flagship event to concentrate their efforts on, or launch a sponsored challenge for teams and colleagues to work towards. If you're stuck and unsure what would be the best approach for you and your business, we'll work with you to come up with the right plan for you.

However you proceed, we'll be by your side every step of the way offering tips, ideas and inspiration and to share your successes with our community through the media and online.

Though the money raised each year by local businesses is vital to the sustainability of the charity, our focus is also on forming and strengthening long-lasting relationships with our local corporate community which are of mutual benefit for all involved.
